Android updates its operating system regularly to include new features, fix glitches, and make your Android device run more smoothly. The newest version is Android 10, and it offers some great features you'll want to get your hands on. Installing the new OS is not too difficult. Before you install it, you have to make sure your phone is compatible with it and able to receive the latest update, which we can help you with. Then, we'll give you some advice about getting the update. Make sure you have the right phone Julian Chokkattu/Digital Trends Unfortunately, not every Android phone is going to be eligible for the Android 10 update. If your device is over 2 years old, has already received two major Android OS updates, or is a lower-end budget device, you might not be seeing Android 10 at all. We've collected rumors for each of the manufacturers in our Android 10 updates post, so you can check there for the latest news on a variety of devices. However, there are some devices which are a given. All of Google's Pixel phones have already received the update, while the latest flagship phones — like the Samsung Galaxy Note 10 range and Huawei's P30 range — are also highly likely to get the update. You can also safely assume any phone that took part in the Android 10 beta is likely to receive the update. The Android 10 beta program was the largest in Android's history, with an amazing 25 devices from 13 manufacturers taking part. Here's the list of phones that supported the Android 10 beta: Asus ZenFone 5Z Essential Phone Huawei Mate 20 Pro LG G8 ThinQ Nokia 8.1 OnePlus 7 Pro OnePlus 7 OnePlus 6T Oppo Reno Realme 3 Pro Sony Xperia XZ3 Tecno Spark 3 Pro Vivo X27 Vivo Nex S Vivo Nex A Xiaomi Mi 9 Xiaomi Mi Mix 3 5G Google Pixel 3a Google Pixel 3a XL Google Pixel 3 Google Pixel 3 XL Google Pixel 2 Google Pixel 2 XL Google Pixel Google Pixel XL Back up your data While the final Android 10 build won't be as risky as getting involved in a beta program, it's still a really good idea to backup your Android devices regularly and before committing to the upgrade. Make sure to back up your Android phone to your PC to make sure your precious data is as safe as houses. How to install Android 10 So your phone has been confirmed to be getting the Android 10 update — hurrah! Now what? Well, you may have to wait a while. Some manufacturers take a little while to push the update out, whether it's the speedier companies like Nokia, or the slowpokes of Samsung and LG. That usually comes down to how much work they have to do, and creating manufacturer UIs like Samsung's upcoming One UI 2.0 can take a significant amount of time. Thankfully, when your update is ready, it'll be pushed through to your phone and you'll be prompted to upgrade. You can either upgrade right then and there, or you can choose to have your phone install it at a later time when it's more convenient — you can even have it update overnight. If you're really, really excited about it (like us) then you can manually check to see if the update has come in. To do so, head to Settings > System > Advanced > System update > Check for update. If you're not using a stock Android phone, then your path to finding the updates section may be slightly different — for instance on Samsung phones, you can access Software update directly from the Settings app — but its almost always somewhere in your Settings. That's really all there is to updating to Android 10. Unsure of what's new in the operating system? Check out our Android 10 review. Editors' Recommendations Definitions Insights Reference Topics About Us With all the things smartphones and tablets can do nowadays and their larger capacities, we tend to put all kinds of files onto them. Being able to compress files before transferring them on and off your device would make things easier. We previously showed you how to open zip files on an iPhone or iPad. Now, we'll show you two ways to work with zip files on an Android device. The first method is using a free file manager app called "ES File Explorer." Search for this app in the Play Store and install it. To open a zip file, use the tree on the left to navigate to the folder containing the zip file and touch the zip file. The "Select" dialog box displays allowing you to select an app to use to open the zip file. Touch "ES Zip Viewer." NOTE: If you want to use this app as the default viewer for zip files, select the "Set as the default app" check box. The "Compression Manager" window opens in "ES File Explorer" and displays the files in the zip file. Touch and hold on one of the files you want to add to extract from the zip file until it is checked. Touch the other files you want to extract. If you want to extract all the files, touch the check box button in the upper-right corner of the app window. To extract the selected files, touch "Extract" at the bottom of the screen. The "Extract selected files to" dialog box displays. Select the first option to create a folder named the same as the zip file in the same folder as the zip file. The extracted files will be placed in this folder. The "Current path" option extracts the files to the same folder as the original zip file. If you want to choose a different path, select the "Choose path" option. We discuss the second and third options below. Touch "OK" once you've made your selections. If you selected "Choose path", another field displays, showing a path. Touch the field containing the path. The "Current path" dialog box displays. Touch folders to navigate to the path where you want to extract the files. Then, touch "OK." NOTE: For this example, we chose to create a folder with the same name as the zip file into which the files will be extracted (the first option on the "Extract selected files to" dialog box). A message displays telling you the extraction process was successful and you are returned to the open zip file in the "Compression Manager." At the top of the window above the list of files, there are icons for the different windows that are open. The "Compression Manager" window is currently active. Touch the phone icon to go back to the folder on your phone containing the zip file and the extracted files. In our example, there is a new folder with the same name as the zip file. To access the extracted files, we touch this folder to open it. The extracted files are now accessible and you can open them on your device. What if you want to transfer files off of your device? You can compress them into one zip file for easier transferring. We'll show you how to use "ES File Explorer" to create a zip file from files on your device. Navigate to the folder containing the files you want to compress and select them the same way you selected files in the zip file to extract. Touch the "More" button in the bottom-right corner of the screen and touch "Compress" on the popup menu. The "ES Zip Viewer" dialog box displays and the keyboard activates so you can enter a name for the zip file in the top edit box. Touch the down arrow at the bottom of the screen to hide the keyboard so you can see the entire dialog box. Select whether you want to create a "zip" file or a "7z" file (a versatile compressed archive file format initially implemented by the 7-Zip archiver). Specify the "Compression level," and enter an optional "Password" to protect the zip file, if desired. A message displays telling you the compression process was successful and you are returned to the folder containing the files you added to the zip file. The newly created zip file is placed in the same folder as the files you zipped. If you have a Samsung Android device, such as a Galaxy S series phone, Galaxy Note series phone, or Galaxy Tab tablet, we'll show you how you can use the built-in "My Files" file manager to open and create zip files. Touch the "My Files" icon to open the app. Touch "Device storage" or "SD card," depending on where the desired zip file is located. For our example, we will open a zip file located on the "Device storage." Navigate to the folder containing the zip file and touch the file to open it. The "Extract" dialog box displays and the keyboard becomes active. By default, the files will be extracted to a folder with the same name as the zip file created in the same folder as the zip file. To change the name of that folder, type a name on the "Extract" dialog box. If you can't see the "Extract" button on the dialog box, it's blocked by the keyboard. Press the "Back" button on your device to hide the keyboard. NOTE: The built-in "My Files" file manager app does not allow you to extract specific files. You must extract all the files in a zip file. We decided to accept the default folder name. Touch "Extract" to create the folder and extract the files from the zip file. The folder is created in the same directory as the original zip file. Touch the folder to open it. The files from the zip file are available in the folder. To compress files using the "My Files" file manager on a Samsung device, navigate to the folder containing the files you want to compress. Touch and hold on the first file you want to select until it is checked. Once you have selected one file, a check box button displays in the upper-left corner of the screen. To select all the files, touch this button. NOTE: You can also select specific files by touching each file after the first one is selected. Touch the menu button (three vertical dots) in the upper-right corner of the screen. On the popup menu, touch "Zip." The "Zip" dialog box displays and the keyboard becomes active. By default, the name of the folder containing the files is used as the name for the zip file. If you want to use a different name, type the new name on the dialog box. If you can't see the "Zip" button on the dialog box, it's blocked by the keyboard. Press the "Back" button on your device to hide the keyboard. Touch "Zip" to create the zip file. The newly created zip file is placed in the same folder as the files you added to the zip file. There are other apps available for Android devices, such as WinZip, RAR for Android, and ZArchiver, that provide additional features, such as encryption, editing archives, and partial archive decompression.
